

Rumie is a non-profit organization with a mission to bring the free digital learning revolution to offline, remote, and underserved communities around the world.

We can be found in more than twenty countries.

How Rumie Works

A Library For The Cost Of A Book

Rumie delivers LearnCloud collections via low-cost, offline-capable devices, loaded with multidimensional libraries.

Education (learners and teachers), Whole-istic Learning (culture and language, non-traditional),
Programs and Organizations (awareness and promotion)

Education

Home

Language Nest

Daycare

Pre-school

Elementary

Secondary

Post Secondary

- The LearnCloud is a storage place for resources created by Indigenous teachers for their students
- Houses resources for all ages and learning styles to use in the classroom, at work and at home
- A way to share content with areas that have little to no Internet access, supporting remote learners and families

Blair Beaucage, Anishinaabemowin Language Teacher
Nbising Secondary School, Nipissing First Nation

Darian at home

Whole-istic Learning

We work with communities to develop collections of learning resources that will support community voiced needs

- 93 Indigenous languages and dialects
- Culture
- Self care
- Food sovereignty
- Literacy and numeracy
- Do it yourself and how to

Programs and Organizations found on the LearnCloud

Volunteers link collections of resources found on the Internet that are created by Indigenous organizations and allies

FirstVoices

